

Jet Hits Home for Aged Nuns; 15 Die

11 Nuns, Priest, Cook, 2 Fliers Perish in Flames Of Jet Fuel and Rockets

OTTAWA — A rocket-laden RCAF twin-jet flying an intercept mission hurtled at near supersonic speed into a Roman Catholic rest home for nuns Tuesday night, killing 15 persons by fire and explosion.

The death toll was announced by the mother superior of the mother house of the Grey Nuns of the Cross in Ottawa. She said the dead included 11 nuns, a female kitchen helper and the Rev. Father Richard M. Ward, a Navy chaplain who also ministered to the nuns. Also killed were the pilot and observer in the CF100 jet aircraft.

The mother superior said 22 nuns escaped from the home. They were brought to the mother house here.

The mother superior would not allow anyone to see the survivors "for the time being." She said all were suffering from severe shock.

An eyewitness said the convalescent home's chapel was lit up with an eerie glow by the plane's bursting rockets, creating an instant funeral pyre for the nuns sleeping near it.

The plane was ordered into the air by RCAF headquarters to identify an unknown aircraft, later identified as a Canadian transport plane. The mission was a routine U. S.-Canadian joint air defense maneuver.

The screams of the trapped nuns and the earth-shaking force of the impact and explosion routed sleeping neighbors out of their beds. They ran to the burning building and rescued 22 nuns.

Engines in Flames

Both of the Canadian-built jet's engines were reported aflame when it roared into the rambling Ville St. Louis convent eight miles east of Ottawa about 10:15 p. m. Tuesday.

The jet's death dive was witnessed by Gloria Flora, 14-year-old daughter of a shopkeeper.

"I heard it roar over the roof and I thought of all the nuns in the home," she said. "When I got to the door I could see the plane clearly. It was on fire and heading straight for the convent."

"It went into the building with a terrific roar and exploded. The fire broke out and I could hear people screaming. I felt sick when I thought of the poor nuns trapped inside."

Neighbors raced into the flaming building rocked by still exploding ammunition to lead terrified nuns down a fire escape to safety.

Tells of Rescue

Roy Herbert, pulling on his clothes, said he made a "bee-line" through the pasture with three other nuns.

"I could see the nuns on the second, third and fourth floors behind windows looking terrified and they were screaming for help."

Herbert jumped on another rescuer's back, vaulted a wall and climbed a fire escape to the second floor.

"One elderly nun was trying to open the window. I smashed it and dragged her through it and hustled down the fire escape," Herbert said.

William Casavant, foreman of the mother house which administered the home, wept when he helped police attempt to determine who was missing.

"It is a terrible thing," he said. "The grey nuns were loved by all in this district. They were so kind and friendly."

Ray Johnson, one of the rescuers, said he saw one nun jump from the third floor.

"I just reached for her and broke her fall," he said. "She hurt her back, and I hurt mine too. She was about 70 years old."

The dead priest was identified as Father Edward Ward, a naval chaplain stationed temporarily at the home. He died while ambulance men were caring for him at the scene.

About Town And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

THIS AND THAT: One of Mrs. Alvin Nicholson's hens must have swallowed a peanut shell which stayed inside and became a mold.

I'm saying that because one of Mrs. Nicholson's New Hampshire Red hens laid an egg the size of a peanut, and shaped like a peanut.

Yessirree, that's a fact, the size of a peanut, and the shape of a peanut.

Mrs. Nicholson lives at Stonefort and sent the egg up to me by a grandson, Trevor Whiteside of Harrisburg.

I WAS OUT to Herman Head's the other day. Herman lives in the east part of town and I had been told that the family cat, which was nursing a trio of kittens, came up with a pair of tiny rabbits, and she was letting them nurse, too.

Now on a couple of other occasions I had heard of this happening, with the mother cat eating the baby rabbits when she got ready, although she had let them nurse with her own babies.

It must have been going on at Herman's, because when I got there one baby rabbit had already disappeared.

AN UNUSUAL STONE is in Clyde Butler's yard at 1200 West Raymond avenue.

I haven't had a chance to talk to Clyde and find out all the details but the sandstone, which is said to be more than 100 years old, has two well-sculptured faces looking out from it.

Mr. Butler, who has had the stone about a month, bought it from a man down around Stonefort.

THREE CHEERS for the oil and chips program the city council has undertaken. It cannot be financed with motor fuel tax funds; so the city is earmarking $2,000 a month from the city sales tax allotments for this noteworthy work.

Part of the work has been done and more will follow. It's as fine an example of money well spent as I've seen.

Also congratulations to the city council for breaking the bottleneck in Mill street between Gaskins and Lincoln, a bottleneck that has been there for years and years and years.

Plan Youth Center For Carrier Mills, Stonefort Areas

All persons from the Carrier Mills and Stonefort areas interested in establishing a youth center for teenagers are urged by Harry Yocum Jr., one of those working on the project, to attend an open discussion at 7 p. m. Monday in the Carrier Mills grade school assembly.

At this meeting a temporary committee will be elected to work on an organization program.

Interest already is being shown in the project and some have indicated a willingness to make a pledge.

The group is planning on using the building now occupied by Uzzle's store in Carrier Mills for the youth center, if enough interest is shown in the project.

The center would be for seventh and eighth grade and high school students.

Du Quoin Packing Firm Files $50,000 Suit Against Union

DU QUOIN, Ill. — The Du Quoin Packing Co. has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a union local that is on strike against it.

Local 156 of the United Packinghouse Workers went on strike April 14 to back demands for wage increases. Since then, the National Labor Relations Board filed a charge of unfair labor practice against the local, charging it failed to give state labor mediators proper notice of the strike.

The packing company's suit charges that it and the local signed a labor contract that would run to April 14, 1957. The company asks the $50,000 damages as losses the business suffered as a result of the strike. It also asks for any further losses of business that it can prove resulted from the strike.

The NLRB has scheduled a hearing May 28 on the charge of unfair labor practices against the local.

B47 Crashes Into Sea Off England; Two Men Missing

PENZANCE, England — Two of three American crewmen were believed killed today when their U. S. Air Force B47 Stratofort bomber crashed into the Atlantic off England's western tip. The third crewman was saved.

The plane went down off Land's End about 2:30 p. m. A large scale sea and air rescue operation was thrown into action to find any possible survivors.

An Air Ministry spokesman in London said an unidentified French trawler rescued one of the three U. S. airmen aboard the doomed plane. The man was reported injured.

"As far as we know there are still two men missing," the spokesman said.

VFW, Legion to Sponsor Services Memorial Day

Harrisburg's two veterans organizations — George Hart Post 167, American Legion, and Beasley-Murray Post 3642, Veterans of Foreign Wars—will sponsor the annual Memorial Day services in Harrisburg, it was announced today.

There will be special Memorial services conducted at Sunset Lawn cemetery in Harrisburg and also at the Cedar Bluff church cemetery.

The American Legion post appointed its committee at Monday night's meeting and the VFW committee will be formed soon. Commander Merle Dailey of George Hart post appointed the following—Bob Hull, Ivey Knowles, Ulysses Morris, Lowell Hill and Norman Shewmake.

In preparation for the ceremonies the drill team, representing both the VFW and Legion, will practice every Tuesday and Thursday evenings, starting at 7 o'clock. All members of the team are urged to attend the drill periods.

Other action at the Legion meeting included the announcement that Bob Hull would represent the local post as a counselor at Boys' State, Springfield. Legionnaire Hull will report to Boys' State Saturday, June 23, and remain on duty there until Sunday, July 1. This is the first time Harrisburg Legion post has had a member on the counselor staff.

Plans were also started for the convention of the 24th District, American Legion, to be held in Harrisburg Saturday and Sunday, June 16 and 17.

April Coal Production Off

SPRINGFIELD — April coal production in Illinois fell off 555,072 tons from March, the State Mines and Minerals Department reported today.

However, the April production of 3,624,042 tons was 513,589 tons greater than the total hoisted in April, 1955.

April production was reported by 111 shipping mines in 32 counties.

The mines employed a total of 11,676 miners, compared to 11,917 working in March.

Shaft mines produced 2,148,423 tons from April total, and strip mines 1,475,619 tons.

Christian County was the month's top producer with 488,817 tons, followed by Williamson with 469,502, and Fulton with 420,275.

Truman Arrives at Le Havre, Receives Official Welcome from French Gov't

PARIS — Former President Truman returned today to the city he first saw as an artillery captain from Missouri 38 years ago. It was the first stop on a seven-week tour around Europe.

Mr. Truman and his wife arrived at Le Havre aboard the liner United States after a smooth five-day crossing and took the boat train for Paris, followed by a swarm of newsmen and photographers.

The French government issued an official statement of welcome recalling his "numerous measures favorable to peace." U. S. embassy and French government officials greeted the Trumans.

The former president shunted aside newsmen's questions about politics except to say that he wants a Democrat elected president and that he would go home to help campaign if asked.

The Trumans are expected to leave Thursday night for Rome.

Mr. Truman said he and Mrs. Truman had "smooth sailing" on the five day Atlantic crossing aboard the liner United States and a steward volunteered the information "There wasn't a single wave."

As usual the former president was up at 7 a. m. for a stroll around the decks after the liner docked in clear, sunny weather. He was still suffering from a fall down a stairway three weeks ago and limped along with the aid of a cane.

He was chipper enough, however, to climb a full flight of stairs instead of taking an elevator.

"This should give you boys some knee exercises," he cracked to newsmen hurrying to keep up with him.

To Streamline Research in U. S. Weapons

Eisenhower Offers Blueprint; House Group Votes Postal Increase

By United Press

President Eisenhower today sent Congress a blueprint for streamlining the nation's weapons development programs to help keep the United States ahead of Russia.

The White House announced that the plan calls for the creation of a new post-assistant secretary for research and development — in each of the three armed services.

The aim, said Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, is "to provide for more efficient, more fully integrated programs of research and development."

The plan will become effective automatically in 60 days if Congress doesn't object.

Other congressional news:

POSTAL RATES: The House Post Office Committee voted tentatively to increase postal rates for newspapers and magazines. The increase would be spread over five years. The committee also voted in closed session to increase rates on third class mail circulars, etc. by 30 per cent, as recommended by the administration.

ADOPTIONS: The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John O'Grady, secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Charities, urged the Senate Judiciary Committee to reject a bill to provide heavy penalties for anyone running a "black market" in babies. He said it would put nearly all baby adoptions under federal control and gravely handicap religious agencies in child welfare work.

CIVIL RIGHTS: Rep. Adam C. Powell (D-N.Y.) told the United Press he plans to launch a campaign next year to get Congress to bar the use of federal funds for segregated schools under any existing federal school aid programs. He is not making the drive this year because he wants to give states with segregated schools a "one-year breather."

Winns Entertain Ministers at Dinner Meeting

Rev. Maurice Winn, Harrisburg, superintendent of the Harrisburg Methodist district, and Mrs. Winn were host and hostess to the ministers in the Harrisburg district and their wives at a dinner meeting held last evening at Wesley Center.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock to approximately 130 guests.

During the business meeting J. O. Hall, district lay leader, gave a report on the district-wide "every member" canvass being conducted in the Methodist church and stated that the churches which had participated enthusiastically found the program to be a great success. Because of it there has been a great increase in the pledging to the current expense budgets and to the world service or missionary budgets of the Methodist churches in the Harrisburg district.

Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Lippman of Metropolis, were in charge of the entertainment, and the preparation of the meal was under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. William Simms of East St. Louis and Rev. and Mrs. William Henderson of Vandalia.

The group was thankful and appreciative of the fact that the district meeting could be held in the spacious Wesley Center of the Methodist church.

Red Cross Disaster Institute at Elks Club Friday

Ernest Duncan, Saline County Red Cross Disaster chairman, urges everyone in the county who would be willing to work as a volunteer if a disaster occurred in Saline County, to attend the Disaster Institute at the Elks club on Friday, May 18.

Nurses will meet from 9:30 a. m. until 11:30 a. m. All other volunteers will meet from 1:30 p. m. until 3:30 p. m. By meeting together and having the disaster program explained by trained personnel, the county would be prepared to meet the emergency in case of a disaster.

Mr. Duncan will make assignments to the various disaster committees at a later date and all volunteers will be notified. Mr. Duncan is particularly interested in having volunteers from all parts of the county who would be available to help in a stricken area as no one can foresee where a disaster might occur. It might be in a heavily populated area or a rural section, therefore all volunteers should not be concentrated in the larger towns.

This meeting is open to everyone interested in keeping the county prepared to meet any type of natural disaster.

Bell Ordinance Submitted to City Council

An ordinance submitted by a representative of the Bell Telephone Co. from Mt. Vernon, granting Bell certain rights within the city limits, was given a reading and placed on file by the Harrisburg city council yesterday afternoon.

The ordinance, upon which action could take place June 4, applies to Bell's toll lines within the city. The General Telephone Co. of Illinois has all the local exchange lines in Harrisburg.

The ordinance would grant the company the right to erect lines, poles and other fixtures and equipment for toll line service only.

The representative stated that with the switch to the dial system in Harrisburg, the Bell company will have a lot of work to do here.

Bids for maintenance materials for patching of arterial streets by the city street department were approved, subject to acceptance by the state division of highways.

Approved were the bid of Tison and Hall of Harrisburg for six cubic yards of ready-mixed concrete to be delivered at the job site, at $16.55 per cubic yard; and the bid of the Franklin Asphalt Co. of Benton for 60 tons of bituminous patching mixture at $9 per ton, F. O. B. Benton.

Eisenhower's Vote in Nebraska Shows Little Sign of Farm Revolt

WASHINGTON — Nebraska primary results gave Republicans more evidence today that the political revolt in the farm belt may not be all they feared it to be.

President Eisenhower's vote in Tuesday's GOP presidential primary in nominally Republican Nebraska was running ahead of Sen. Estes Kefauver's count in the Democratic primary by a margin of about 9 to 5. The vote was very tight — apparently less than half the total cast in the contested presidential primaries four years ago.

Neither Mr. Eisenhower nor Kefauver had opposition in his respective primary.

The Nebraska vote was watched for fresh clues to farm sentiment, which alarmed the Republicans after the Minnesota and Wisconsin primaries. There was a sharp increase in the Democratic farm vote in those two states, in which voters are free to cross party lines in primaries.

Nebraska, the first major wheat growing state with primaries this year, does not hold the same type of wide open primaries. However, voters in rural areas and towns with less than 7,000 population can move across party lines making a shift of the farm vote possible.

But Mr. Eisenhower appeared to have won about 64 per cent of the vote cast in the presidential preference primary. In the 1952 primaries 65.5 per cent was cast in the GOP primary and in the 1952 election 69.2 per cent of the vote went to Mr. Eisenhower.

In Tuesday's balloting, Nebraska Republicans elected 18 national convention delegates and Democrats chose delegates with 12 national convention votes. These delegates are not bound by the presidential preference vote but are expected to follow it this year.

As the Nebraska votes were counted, the three chief rivals for the Democratic nomination concentrated on the Pacific Northwest. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York moved into Washington state Tuesday night. And in Oregon Kefauver and Adlai E. Stevenson shared a platform for the first time in their campaigns. They spoke to about 5,000 persons in a University of Oregon gymnasium at Eugene.

Billman Road Scheduled for Resurfacing

Billman road, the backlot road which runs from Eldorado south to Route 13 in Cottage township, is scheduled to get a resurfacing this summer.

At Springfield the department of public works and buildings has announced there will be a letting May 29 and included is Billman road, which is the following:

4.54 miles of bituminous surface treatment on gravel or crushed stone base course on Federal Aid Secondary Route 895 from Route 142 near Eldorado south.

Another Saline county project upon which bids are being asked is for 98 mile of gravel or crushed stone surface course on Federal Aid Secondary Route 896 from two and a half miles north of Raleigh north.

The letting also calls for work on Route 45 between Stonefort and New Burnside, as follows:

A three-span, reinforced bridge over Pond creek; 2.32 miles of concrete resurfacing; 62 mile of concrete base course; 1.49 miles of concrete base course widening; 20 mile of granular embankment; and a steel I-beam timber bridge.

Republican Women Plan 'Double Dozen For Victory' Program for Election

CHICAGO (UP) — Republican women will get their tans in "Eisenhower sun dresses" and run up telephone bills in "dial derbies" this summer to help President Eisenhower stay in the White House.

The "Double Dozen for Victory" program of 24 gadgets and ideas was revealed at the board meeting of the National Federation of Republican Women today.

Mrs. Carroll D. Kearns, federation president, said the GOP female contingent will range from the kitchen to the fashion front to round up votes for President Eisenhower.

Young mothers willing to turn politician needn't worry about the children, she said. The Republican plans even provide for baby sitters.

The "double dozen" program includes "Eisenhower commemorative fabric," ideal for patio sun dresses. The dresses are patterned with scenes from the President's life and should provide a neat way of bringing the conversation around to politics.

The same material is available for seat covers, so that visitors to a Republican lady's home can brush up on the President's life while admiring the decor.

Aside from preparing a Republican wardrobe, GOP women can also get together in "Kitchen Kabinets" and go all-out with "10-times-10 conversation chains" and "dial derbies."

The Republican women hope "Kitchen Kabinets" will spring up in every community during the election season. They will be patterned after the President's cabinet and a woman representing each cabinet post will bone up on information about her subject.

The "Kabinets" will be tied in with "Operation Coffee Cup" and "Operation Milk Glass." The latter is for women who would like to give Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson a hand in getting rid of the milk surplus.

The "conversation chains" and "dial derbies" are devices to push a GOP "tell and sell" program through word of mouth and over the telephone wires.

Meanwhile, the RFD and YRM, will be spreading the Republican gospel in suburbs and at neighborhood breakfast and brunch sessions.

The RFD stands for "Republican Federation Doorstep" clubs and the "YRM" are the "Young Republican Mothers."

The doorsteppers plan to get to suburban women who can't travel to metropolitan GOP meetings. The young mothers will hold kaffeeklatches, with two of the club members delegated to serve as baby sitters.

To Organize Committee at Meeting June 12

Delegations from Carrier Mills, Eldorado Meet Here

Delegations from Carrier Mills and Eldorado met at the city hall last night with a Harrisburg group with the idea in mind to performing a solid front in organizing to promote industrial growth and community development within the area.

At the conclusion of talks by Geoffrey Hughes, executive director of Southern Illinois Incorporated, and Mart Watson, a leader in Eldorado's Operation Bootstrap, there was a general discussion, after which it was decided to organize a nucleus committee at a meeting to be held June 12.

Heading the delegations from the other cities were Mayor Carl Johnson of Eldorado and Mayor Freeman O'Keefe of Carrier Mills.

To Name Committees

The aim is to form a nucleus committee out of representatives from the communities of the county, and from there to name a number of specific committees to handle the job at hand.

Watson told of Eldorado's Bootstrap program, in which assistance was received from the Community Development department of Southern Illinois university.

Among accomplishments that don't meet the eye of the outsider, he said, are the following:

The community is fully organized to face a problem when it arises.

New leaders have been developed in the community.

Attitudes of persons toward each other have changed because of mixing together and exchanging opinions.

An industrial foundation has been created. Also created is a labor relations board in which there has been no suspicion of motives.

Should Pool Resources

Watson said that on a map, Harrisburg, Eldorado and Carrier Mills are three little dots close together, and that the county should pool its sites, its brains and all resources.

Hughes, who said the SII secures five factories for southern Illinois for every 100 leads contacted, declared that the fighting of petty battles must stop and a united front of all the communities in the area be formed in order to do a good job of industrial growth.

He said that what is good for southern Illinois is good for any community in the area, and what is good for the community is good for southern Illinois.

He also said that any town that

Arends to Keynote Republican State Convention May 29

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Congressman Leslie C. Arends (R-Ill.) will be the keynote speaker at the Republican state convention at Bloomington May 29.

Morton H. Hollingsworth, GOP state central committee chairman, said Arends has been assigned the keynote address, and State Sen.
David Davis, (R-Bloomington) will review the party's first state convention.

The GOP state convention will be held at Bloomington to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the first Republican Illinois convention, which was held at Bloomington in 1856.

The convention business session this year will include the drafting of a state platform and the nomination of three candidates for University of Illinois trustees.

Ertons to Move
To New Offices

New quarters for the Erton real estate company are being prepared in rooms over Jackson's drug store. Mr. and Mrs. Erton expect to move from their present offices on the northeast corner of the square into their new offices around the first of the month.

They are moving into two rooms
formerly occupied by the late D.
E. Cavender Sr. New flooring has been laid and the rooms are being redecorated.

Rhee Wins Third Term Despite Fraud Charges

SEOUL (AP) — Tough old President Syngman Rhee today won a third term by an overwhelming margin, despite opposition charges of fraud and a massive "ghost vote" for a dead rival.

Late returns from Tuesday's election gave Rhee 4,109,962 votes to 1,774,840 for Cho Bong Am, his only living opponent. Another 1-498,968 ballots — more than a fifth of the total — were invalidated, most of them because they were cast for P. H. Shinicky, who died during the campaign.

The 81-year-old president's running mate, Lee Ki Poong, was running behind an opposition candidate in the separate vice presidential race, but at latest reports he appeared to be closing the gap.

Opposition to Rhee was especially evident in the cities. In Seoul, there were more invalid ballots—284,359 — than there were votes for the president — 205,253 — or Cho — 119,129.

Leaders of Rhee's Liberal Party said at first the heavy opposition vote was a result of U. S. tardiness in furnishing funds for South Korean rehabilitation. Later they decided the opposition vote was likely to delay economic aid still further by causing "international distrust."

Doctor Blames Auto Speed for New Type of Injuries

CHICAGO (AP) — A doctor blamed the auto "speed age" today for a new type of bone-crushing injury, the "nutcracker fracture."

Dr. William Johnson of Galesburg told the Illinois State Medical Society that today's autos are like "eggs."

On impact, he said, they "spew their contents in all directions." Often the auto then begins to roll, Johnson said.

"Should one of the occupants be lying on his side as the car rolls over him, he is caught in the jaws of this giant nutcracker," he said.

This results in a new type of fracture of the pelvis, the "nutcracker fracture." Half of the pelvis is torn away from the other half and from the vertebral column.

Johnson told the meeting how new surgical techniques have been developed to fix the shattered parts in such accidents.

He said one woman who suffered this fracture gave birth to a normal child later, and a 5-year-old girl was walking again 37 days after the operation for the injury.

Dr. Frank W. Pirruccello, a plastic surgeon at Northwestern University Medical School, described the grafting of skin from the dead to save the lives of badly burned children.

Pirruccello said one 5-year-old boy who suffered burns over 58 per cent of his body was completely healed within five months, with the help of grafts. Doctors removed 900 square inches of skin from the body of one donor and 126 inches from a second to do it.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

In a remote wild area in Africa, missionaries found a native village surrounded by a thorn fence which had no gate.

In the daytime a small portion of the fence was laboriously removed and at night the section of fence was rebuilt with much pain and hardship. The fence was to keep the lions out of the village
while the natives slept.

The natives knew how to build gates but they wanted no gate in the barrier around the village, because a gate would only make the lions curious and the lions would then be more determined than ever to ravage the village.

We wonder if those primitive natives may not have had a point in their logic. Civilized man has erected a lot of legal and personal fences, barriers and bans around himself for reasons long forgotten
if they were ever known.

But many of the barriers we erect around ourselves are built only for the selfish purpose of avoiding our responsibilities to other people. We do not want to have to share their problems, their hardships and their need for fellowship.

Our fences frequently tempt other people to force themselves and their ideas on us. Our barriers create suspicion, and cut us off from God as well as man.

Let us tear down our superficial fences and take our place with men in protecting all mankind against the ravages of materialism and indifference.

Indonesian Chief Arrives in U. S. For Good-Will Visit

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Indonesian President Sukarno arrived here today on an 18-day good will visit, and promptly proved that U. S. politicians have no monopoly on the baby-kissing technique.

Sukarno, head, of the world's third largest republic, delighted the crowd at an official welcoming ceremony by leaving his limousine to shake hands with some of his well-wishers.

He kissed an elderly woman on the cheek, patted several children on their heads, and gravely introduced himself to a timid 5-year-old boy in a cowboy suit.

By the time Sukarno arrived at the White House a few minutes later to be greeted by President Eisenhower, he had already made a good start on his avowed purpose of building "real friendship" with the American people.

Fight Against Communism Shown In Kiwanis Films

Two films produced by World Vision, Inc., were shown to members of the Kiwanis club last night at the Masonic temple. The first showed projects in Korea of World Vision — an interdenominational group composed of Christian men — and the other, "Dead Men on Furlough," depicted the struggle against Communism in Korea.

The films were presented as a challenge to Christian men to do something for their faith.

World Vision projects in Korea include support of orphan children, some blind and deaf, children's hospitals, founding homes, leper colonies and amputee projects. Missionaries are present to help these unfortunate groups in Korea and the purpose of the films was to let businessmen in the United States know how the work is needed there.

The film, "Dead Men on Furlough," told the true story of life under Communist armies.

Haskell Casey was in charge of presenting the films for World Vision and he pointed out that 37 per cent of the world population now is under Communist domination and how Christian men, who are the backbone of their home and community, should practice their Christianity actively to combat the Godless menace.

1,200 Communities In U.S. Now Drinking Fluoridated Water

SPRINGFIELD — About 25 million persons in some 1,200 communities in the United States are now drinking fluoridated water, Dr. Thomas C. Starshak, Chicago, president of the Illinois State Dental Society, reported today.

"The decades of research that began nearly half a century ago have opened a new frontier against a disease that has plagued mankind for centuries," Starshak told the 92nd annual meeting of the society.

"The overwhelming accumulation of scientific evidence on the effectiveness and safety of the use of fluoridation to prevent tooth decay is a matter of record," he said.

Couple Killed by Train

MATTOON, Ill. — John G. Lucas, 68, and his wife, Mary, 66, Lerna, were killed last Tuesday when a Nickel Plate Railroad freight train hit their pickup truck near Trilla, eight miles south of here.

The accident occurred a short distance from where the farm couple's son, Lawrence, 41, was killed April 10 in a motorcycle-car collision.

Showdown On Carriers Brews In Pentagon

'Boys' Quarrel,' Wilson Says in Smoldering Feud

WASHINGTON — A new Pentagon showdown on the role of super-aircraft carriers is brewing despite Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's effort to call it a "boys' quarrel" that he won't get into.

It is a "quarrel" that involves a 20 million dollar a year outlay for Navy carriers of the Forrestal class whose striking power has again been questioned before Congress by the Air Force.

Wilson himself fanned the long-smoldering fire into new life when he cited the strategic bombing role of carrier planes to answer Democratic claims that the administration is slighting the Air Force long-range bomber program.

Before the same Senate Appropriations subcommittee where Wilson emphasized the carriers, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, testified that carrier planes could make only a "small" contribution in any strategic air war with Russia.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, contended naval forces would play a "major" part in retaliating against atomic attack.

Pressed for a clarification in a turbulent press conference Tuesday, Wilson sought to avoid comment by saying to newsmen, "You want me to come down and quarrel with the boys?"

Follows Lead of Eisenhower He sought to turn aside queries with quips saying at one point that military services should "at least treat each other like allies."

Wilson said that the Navy has a "primary" strategic bombing role in some parts of the world, although the Air Force was assigned that mission in the famed West service agreement which spelled out what jobs each force can do best in a war.

When reporters sought further information on what one called the "new concept" for naval aviation, Wilson shot back "Why don't you let the chiefs (of staff) fool around with the war plans?"

Wilson, in emphasizing aircraft carriers, had followed the lead of President Eisenhower. The President had also cited naval aviation to critics who claim Russia is getting ahead of the United States in long-range bombing power.

Air Force officers contend that the Navy's present 15 carriers would be too much occupied with Russian submarines and shore targets to help much against strategic targets deep in Russia in a general war.

Curtice Predicts Cut in Auto Sales

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice predicted Tuesday that 5,800,000 autos will be sold this year, a drop of 21 per cent from sales in 1955.

Curtice also said 1957 autos would carry a higher price tag. The GM chief said his company, with "about 50,000" laid off already from the peak 1955 work force, will order more layoffs this week. But he said the new figure was "not large."

Labor Department figures and layoffs announced by other firms in the past week indicated auto industry unemployment in the nation totaled about 130,000.

Curtice blamed a "downward trend" in auto sales and production on credit policies of the Federal Reserve Board.

7 Paratroopers Hurt in Air Drop

FT. SILL, Okla. — Seven paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division, Ft. Bragg, N. C., were injured here today in an airdrop demonstration at the guided missiles and artillery center.

One soldier's chute failed to inflate properly, and he plummeted to earth before 6,000 spectators with his chute streaming behind him.

The soldier, Oscar R. Lozano, suffered a broken back and at first was believed dead. He was taken to the base hospital, where doctors said he probably will recover. The other six suffered minor injuries.

The seven were among 300 paratroopers from the 82nd who made the drop as a part of an annual show, open to the public.

Defrocked Pastor Finds Newspaper Career Similar

QUINCY, Ill. — A defrocked Lutheran pastor said today his new found career as a newspaper reporter has "many similarities" to his old duties as minister.

"And there is as much need for honest reporting as there is for honest preaching," he said.

George P. Crist Jr., 31, was expelled from the pulpit of the Gethsemane Lutheran Church at Durham, Wis., last July for unorthodox interpretations of the Bible.

Both he and John H. Gerberding, 33, pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Menomonie Falls, Wis., were tried for heresy. Gerberding was acquitted but he also left his pastorate because "the congregation was confused," he said.

Crist is a general assignment reporter for the Quincy, Ill., Herald-Whig, and said the work is much like his former pastoral duties.

"In both, you're dealing with people and their problems," he said.

Crist said that "one or two reporters" deliberately distorted facts in reporting his heresy trial and subsequent conviction last summer. The Northwest Synod of his church found him guilty of unorthodox interpretations of Christ's Virgin birth, the resurrection and the last supper.

Crist declined to identify the reporters, and stressed that they were "the exception."

Frantz Joins 1,500 Dealers, Officials at Studebaker Meeting

Robert Frantz of the Exide Sales and Service joined 1,500 other Studebaker dealers and factory field officials in South Bend, Ind., Tuesday to drive back to their home towns 1,200 cars and trucks in the largest "dealer drive-away" in the auto industry since 1950.

The event, the "Studebaker Spring Roundup," introduced the new array of spring car colors, and factory officials announced plans for the large-scale merchandising program scheduled to begin June 1.

Harold E. Churchill, general manager, and William A. Keller, general sales manager, addressed the group at a Western-style chuck wagon barbecue at the 800-acre proving ground west of South Bend, where the 1,200 cars were massed all the way around the 2 1/2 mile oval test track of Studebaker.

It takes ten tons of falling water to generate one kilowatt-hour of electricity.

Shawneetown-Carrier Mills Game Today

The district tournament baseball game between Carrier Mills and Shawneetown, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was postponed because of wet grounds and was to be played today at 3:30 p. m. on the VFW diamond.

Today's winner is scheduled to play the McLeansboro subdistrict winner at the same park at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow. The winner will be the district champion and will compete in sectional play.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers rolled to their fifth consecutive triumph with a 7-5 verdict over the St. Louis Cardinals. Gil Hodges and PeeWee Reese walloped homers for the Dodgers, who now are only one game out of first place. Rookie shortstop Don Blasingame was the goat, his two errors preceding Reese's three-run, game-clinching round-tripper.

White Sox Win, 5-1; Dodgers Defeat Cardinals; Stu Miller Snaps Phils' Losing Streak

By United Press
Bob Keegan, who was headed for the minors only a week ago, today has the Chicago White Sox back into the thick of the American league race.

A sore arm case most of last year when he didn't win a game until Aug. 31, the 35-year-old Keegan reeled off his second straight triumph Tuesday night when he beat the Washington Senators, 5-1, with a nine-hitter. He hasn't yielded an earned run in 21 2-3 innings this season and the two victories equal his entire 1955 total.

The victory was the fifth straight for the White Sox and moved them to within a game and a half of the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees who were rained out Tuesday night. On May 9, the White Sox had plummeted to sixth place with a 6-8 record and Manager Marty Marion was considering sending Keegan to the minors.

The next day, however, Keegan pitched 8 2-3 scoreless innings in relief to gain a 2-1 decision over the Boston Red Sox. The White Sox went on to sweep a three-game series with the Detroit Tigers and back came Keegan Tuesday night with another splendid performance.

Scoreless String Snapped
Keegan had pitched 19 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings when the Senators got an unearned tally with the aid of an error by centerfielder Jim Rivera. He was backed by a 14-hit attack that included three hits each by Bob Nieman and Nelson Fox and which dealt Chuck Stobbs his second loss of the year.

The Baltimore Orioles pounded out 14 hits to beat the Kansas City Athletics, 9-5, and the Detroit Tigers snapped a three-game losing streak with a 6-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox in other American league games.

Jim Wilson received credit for his fourth victory although it was George Zuverink, relieving for the 15th time this season, who kept the Athletics in check after they cut Baltimore's margin to four runs in the seventh.

The Tigers routed nemesis Willard Nixon with eight hits and five runs in four innings to drop the Red Sox back to the .500 mark. Paul Foytack won his second game for the Tigers although he needed help from Steve Gromek in the last two innings. Nixon had entered the game with a 12-5 lifetime edge over Detroit.

Dodgers Gain Ground
In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers rolled to their fifth consecutive triumph with a 7-5 verdict over the St. Louis Cardinals. Gil Hodges and PeeWee Reese walloped homers for the Dodgers, who now are only one game out of first place. Rookie shortstop Don Blasingame was the goat, his two errors preceding Reese's three-run, game-clinching round-tripper.

Stu Miller, obtained in the big five-player deal with the Cardinals last Friday, snapped the Philadelphia Phillies' 10-game losing streak with a 3-1 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. Miller yielded six hits and struck out five in out-pitching Lew Burdette. A year ago to the day the Phillies had snapped their longest losing streak of 1955—a 13-game skid.

Willie Mays and Don Mueller homered and Johnny Antonelli turned in a five-hitter to give the New York Giants a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs in the other National league game. The loss was the Cubs' 12th in 14 games and dropped them into the National league cellar.

Flurry of Deals In Majors; Maglie Goes to Dodgers

CHICAGO (AP)—Rumors of possible trades by the Chicago White Sox continued today after the club traded two players with Detroit and shipped out one pitcher to reduce the roster to 29, 3 over their player limit.

The Sox sent outfielder Bob Kennedy and infielder Jim Bredewer to the Detroit Tigers late Tuesday in return for infielder Fred Hatfield and outfielder Jim Delsing, and sold pitcher Harry Byrd to the Charleston team in the American Association for cash.

The Chicago Cubs sent both outfielder Gale Wade and catcher Elvin Tappe to their Los Angeles farm club. Both had been cut previously from the Chicago roster but they had not been assigned to minor league teams. Wade went on option and Tappe was released outright.

There were many shuffles in the last flurry before the official cut-down to the player limit of 25 on midnight, May 17.

The Red Sox maneuvered to get within their limit by placing pitcher Willard Nixon on the disabled list. He had been hauled enough to pitch against Detroit Tuesday, even though he had been knocked out in the process.

The Yankees already were under fire for a similar maneuver. General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians, complained to Commissioner Ford Frick that the Yankees had no right to place infielder Billy Hunter on the disabled list when he had been in uniform all season. They said it was a trick.

The Dodgers pulled the most unlikely of all deals by acquiring pitcher Sal Maglie from Cleveland, the same Maglie who used to brush curve balls past their ears when he was with the Giants. In turn, Brooklyn kept within the player limit by sending relief pitcher Jim Hughes to the Chicago Cubs.

The Indians also learned from their ailing outfielder, Gene Woodling, that he would be of little service to them until he recovers from an illness, and he was placed on the disabled list.

The Redlegs announced at Cincinnati that they were giving up on bonus player Al Silvera, signed from the UCLA campus two years ago. He is subject to immediate military draft. They asked waivers on him from other National league clubs.

Bloom Favored in Wide-Open Battle For State Track Championship

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — A wide-open battle for the team title with possibility of two or more record-breaking individual performances and a wide-open race in the 62nd annual Illinois Interscholastic track and field championships in Memorial Stadium Friday and Saturday.

Bloom Township of Chicago Heights, with 11 qualifiers, continues to be a pre-meet favorite although the Trojans may expect stern battles from such perennial contenders as New Trier of Winnetka, Maine of DesPlaines, Phillips of Chicago, Evanston, and East Aurora.

Records which might fall as more than 600 performers vie in the two-day meet are in the one-mile run, 880-yard run, and 180-yard low hurdles.

Little Jim Bowers of DeKalb is the miler who might crack the mark of 4:23.1, set by Warren Dretzler of LaGrange in 1947. Bowers negotiated the distance in 4:23.4 in the districts and has a best time of 4:20.8 which he ran earlier this year.

Freeport Favored in 880
He'll be pushed by Bob Bagwell of Kankakee and Fred Sandoval of East Moline, who were second and fourth, respectively, in 1955. Neither had an outstanding performance in the districts.

Mike Smith of Freeport ranks as favorite in the 880 with a district time of 1:57.6, just a second off the state mark established by Kenneth Seiz of Quincy in 1941. He heads a high class field including Dick Pond of Glenbard, Ted Beattall, Morton of Cicero, Ron Campbell, Oak Park and Dick Townsend of East Rockford.

Willie Martin of Chicago's Phillips high is back to defend the state record of 19.2 which he set in the 180-yard low hurdles last year. Martin was caught in .20 flat in the districts.

His record was equalled in district competition, however, by Hubert Hommer of Maine, while Dave Schimmel of Arlington Heights and Chuck Teuscher of East Aurora had 19.4. Bob Nicholson of Girard, a 19.6.

Well-balanced fields will be in contention in the high hurdles, where Dick Haas of Oregon had the best qualifying time of 14.5, the 440-yard run, with John Lattimore of Phillips showing the way with a 49.5, and the shot put in which Bill Brown of Mendota topped performances with a toss of 54-4 1/2.

Toss-up in Shot
In the shot eight qualifiers bettered 52 feet 9 1/2 inches, indicating the championships could well be a toss up.

Wilbur Dickson of Danville had the best high jump mark in district eliminations, clearing 6 feet 2 5/8 inches. Ron Swanson of Moline, William Palmer, Arlington Heights, and Tony Etnyre of New Trier all made 6-2.

Best discus throw was 152 feet, 6 1/2 inches by John Fry of East Peoria. His closest rival was Tom Jackson of Collinsville who had a 152.2 mark.

The 100-yard dash will find a well-balanced field, although none of the qualifiers seems capable of matching or bettering Jim Golliday's state mark of :09.6. Bob Schiedel of East Aurora was clocked in :09.7 in the districts.

Order Appeal For Graham

CANON CITY, Colo. (U.P.)—The conviction of John Gilbert Graham was left open today for appeal from the death sentence given the indifferent youth who blew up an airliner to kill his mother for insurance.

Graham was sentenced to die in the gas chamber during the week of Aug. 26 by Judge Joseph M. McDonald in Denver Tuesday.

Graham, convicted of planting a time bomb in his mother's luggage which later blasted a United Air Lines DC6B from the sky and killed 44 persons, turned away every suggestion of a legal appeal for a new trial.

McDonald, convinced that Graham at this time does not wish to escape the death penalty even though he refused to admit any feeling of guilt, did not direct the court-appointed attorneys to file an appeal with the Colorado Supreme Court.

However, McDonald said Graham would have three months in which to change his mind.

The word protein is derived from the Greek word meaning "first."

Youth Charged With Killing Brother

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U.P.)—Police said a 17-year-old youth shot his 15-year-old brother to death Tuesday night because the younger boy refused to take his arm off the upholstery of an abandoned automobile.

The victim, Bernard Cogswell, was pronounced dead on arrival at Grace-New Haven Hospital.

His brother, Arthur, was charged with manslaughter and held in $25,000 bail.

Asst. Police Chief Raymond Fagen said the older youth, after firing a warning shot "to show the gun was loaded," shot Bernard through the heart.

Eagen said Arthur admitted the shooting but called it an accident.

Pam Colbert, a well known pantomime artist who has won numerous prizes throughout the country for her perfect performances, will be featured as a special guest star entertainer at the F. H. A. mother and daughter banquet Thursday evening at the Ridgway high school.

Discuss County Industrial Group

builds a good modern building can get a factory—maybe not tomorrow but eventually. He told of a number of factories in the area secured by S.I.

He told of the billions of dollars being spent by the government elsewhere, then declared that "in southern Illinois we are land-locked."

Need Waterways

He meant by this that we have coal reserves good for thousands of years and yet cannot compete on the market sufficiently because there are no inland water facilities. He called for the people to back up proposals for canalization from the rivers into the coal fields.

"Coal is coming back due largely to ever-increasing electrical energy requirements," he said.

"Industry is expanding; so all in southern Illinois should work together," he stated.

James Davis of Harrisburg told the group that industrially speaking, the whole of Saline county is a small industrial community in itself, that the individual community is not big enough to do the job.

"To face the problems we must be large enough to be effective," he stated.

Britain Explodes Small A-Device, Trigger for H-Bomb

ABOARD A MINESWEEPER OFF AUSTRALIA (U.P.)—Britain today exploded a peewee atomic bomb with a baby bang that marked it as a possible trigger for a hydrogen bomb.

It went off with a dull thud that led one British observer to remark: "I've heard bigger bangs from fireworks on Guy Fawkes Day."

The device was exploded from a tower on one of the desolate Monte Bello Islands, about 40 miles off the coast of Western Australia.

Caudle Linked to Oil Royalty, Labeled Bribe

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—The government today presented testimony linking T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, with an oil royalty, the prosecution contends was a bribe to enable a tax evader to escape prosecution.

The witness, David L. Sheffey, related that Harry I. Schwimmer, attorney for the tax evader, told him late in 1950 "he wanted to do something for Caudle." Sheffey said Schwimmer mentioned "an oil royalty, or something like that."

Caudle and Schwimmer, with Matthew J. Connelly, White House secretary for former President Truman, are on trial in Federal Court on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in an attempt to fix the tax evasion case against Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe broker.

Sheffey and Schwimmer formerly shared law offices in Kansas City. Sheffey said when Schwimmer mentioned the oil royalty he told him, "You must be crazy."

Sheffey quoted Schwimmer as saying he wanted to do something for Caudle because of his "respect and admiration for him." Schwimmer said, according to Sheffey, Caudle was adamant about the Sachs case "but was as respectful of a taxpayer's rights as of the government's position."

FOUR STALWARTS of the University of Illinois Gizz Kids wheelchair basketball team, are about to dribble right over the photographer. Wheelchair basketball is the most popular sport among wheelchair athletes. It also has the greatest spectator appeal. The University of Illinois Gizz Kids are one of the nation's top teams. They are responsible for the first National Wheelchair

ONE OF THE ATTRACTIVE cheerleaders who support the Illinois Gizz Kids congratulates a happy player after an important victory. The cheerleader is Sue Brenitt, of Maumee, Ohio, the player Bruce Karr of Elmhurst.

MISS BONNIE McMANUS, of Chicago, seems to enjoy her therapy and exercise work as it is administered by one of the graduate assistants in therapy at the Rehabilitation center. Bonnie is also a victim of polio.

U.I. Program for Disabled Students Includes All Phases School Life

A program specially designed for physically disabled students has been a part of the University of Illinois for the past eight years and is attracting more students each year.

In 1948 the unique program was established with eight students enrolled. The enrollment has increased greatly since then and the program extended to include every phase of university life.

The program is under the direction of the University of Illinois Student Rehabilitation Center. Mrs. Dean Renn, the former Miss Sue Steele of Equality, works in the program and information and pictures were made available to The Daily Register through the cooperation of Mrs. Renn.

A story of the program is told in a current booklet issued by the Alpha chapter of Delta Sigma Omicron.

"In 1948, through the foresight and planning of Tim Nugent, a unique program was established at the University of Illinois. I say it was a unique program; it was. It was designed to give educational opportunities to disabled persons.

It incorporated within its design special accommodations for housing, emphasis on proper scholastic programming and an unprecedented corrective therapy schedule. Eight students were enrolled to initiate this new program.

"Then, in 1949, the Galesburg division of the University was discontinued and the program was moved to the main campus at Champaign. Here ramps were built leading into seven class buildings. Two buildings in the Parade Ground units were adapted for living quarters for single men. Married paraplegics were accommodated in Stadium Terrace and the disabled girls were housed at Lincoln Avenue Residence hall. Parking facilities were made available on campus and classes were scheduled and rescheduled where necessary.

"In the move to Champaign, five members of the new organization were lost, but new members were soon added and the total membership grew to twenty-two. Wheelchair baseball and football were added to the other major functions of the rehabilitation program. The results were gratifying.

"At the end of the spring semester of 1951, the Alpha chapter of Delta Sigma Omicron (Disabled Students Organization) had increased to 35 members, five of whom were girls. Wheelchair square-dancing was begun; for the first time in history a full season of wheelchair football was conducted.

"In the fall of 1951 an annual banquet was begun and proved to be a great success for old and new members alike. During this year D. S. O. took a greater interest in campus activities. . . individual members participated in a stunt show act for homecoming festivities.

"The accomplishments of D. S. O. are many. Among the more outstanding ones are the following: the establishment of a conscientious athletic program, including wheelchair football, basketball, bowling, etc.; the development of a healthful and purposeful social program, including the annual banquet, picnics, parties and the like, the acquisition of two buses for the purpose of facilitating transportation to classes.

"... A satisfying episode for 'Father' Nugent and his charges has been the establishment of a Beta Chapter of D. S. O. at the University of Florida. Forty students are

Carrier Mills Grade School Students Plan Field Trips

All rooms of the Carrier Mills grade school are planning field trips between now and the end of school, Delbert Waller, superintendent, has announced.

The first trip is scheduled for Tuesday, May 22, when the first grade pupils and teachers will go to the Carrier Mills park area.

Other scheduled trips are—Second grade, May 25, to the Harrisburg township park;

Third grade, May 29, Carrier Mills park;

Fourth grade, May 25, Karel park on the banks of Eldorado reservoir;

Fifth grade, May 25, Fort Massac at Metropolis;

Sixth grade, May 29, Dixon Springs;

Seventh grade, May 28, Dixon Springs;

Eighth grade, May 28, Giant City park;

The kindergarten pupils, about 50 in number, will take a train ride the morning of May 29.

The youngsters and sponsors will travel from Carrier Mills to Eldorado by bus, then board the New York Central passenger train and ride to Harrisburg. Then the trip will be completed with the bus ride back to Carrier Mills.

This will be the first train ride for a majority of the kindergarten pupils, it is said.

taking advantage of the program . . . and are active on the campus.

Hopes are high that the program will extend to California and New York . . . that someday disabled students will have access to an education at any major university through the adaptations which D. S. O. has fostered.

"Graduates of D. S. O. and the University of Illinois are good evidence of what a disabled person can accomplish. Some are working as personnel executives, accountants, draftsmen . . . Others are housewives. Many are parents; two couples have both spouses in wheelchairs.

"The story goes on. Each day another page is written. Sunday is the D. S. O. picnic. Monday night there is the Wheelchair Basketball banquet. Wednesday afternoon there is an exam. Yesterday there was a baseball game. Tomorrow, the tomorrow we have learned to face not as 'abnormal' people, but as college men and women with some disability, will bring us new life and new learning. We have mastered a dream . . . to live most and serve best."

More Opportunities for Retarded Children State Conference Theme

The fourth annual state conference of the Illinois Council for Mentally Retarded Children was held May 12 at the Leland hotel in Springfield. The theme for the conference was "More Opportunities for Retarded Children."

Mrs. Karl Smiley, president of the Illinois Council for Mentally Retarded Children, reviewed the progress made in the last five years in the three fields (1) helping retarded children, (2) helping parents of retarded children and (3) helping educate the community to the needs of retarded children. She stated that there is a need for smaller institutions nearer to the homes of parents.

Dr. Elizabeth Boggs, chairman of the educational committee of the N. A. R. C., described the work of the National board in helping inform the public of its needs.

Three speakers described the work of the state schools. Ivan Garrison, director of special education, Jacksonville public schools, spoke on the conference theme "More Opportunities for the Retarded." He placed emphasis on the responsibility of society to the mentally retarded and stated that society can help by realizing that the mentally retarded have rights to an opportunity to learn to the capacity of which they are capable. Mr. Garrison explained the need for special classes, work experiences, sheltered work shops and better residential facilities.

Joseph King from Neighboring House, Peoria, told of the different activities of the school to help the mentally retarded to grow. Among them were sewing activities, cooking, work shops, and night school activities for those over 16 years of age.

Miss Irene Parrotte, school principal of Lincoln state school, stressed the need for trained personnel, stating that there were only 70 teachers for 5,000 students.

Several local colleges and universities are offering summer courses in special education. Illinois is in great need for qualified teachers to fill the ever increasing demand for both educable and trainable classes.

Universities offering summer classes are as follows: Classes in education of trainable mentally handicapped: Illinois State Normal, six week session, June 18 through July 27; contact Dr. Rose Parker, director, division of special education, Illinois State Normal University, Normal, Ill.;

University of Illinois, pre-requisite courses in regular summer classes, sponsoring four weeks practice teaching at Dixon state school; write to Miss Berenice Baumgartner, education director, Dixon State school;

Classes in education of educable mentally handicapped: University of Illinois, curriculum workshop; write to director of summer courses, University of Illinois, Urbana; MacMurray college, Jacksonville, Ill., six weeks course, write to Miss Delilah Newell; Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, write to director of summer courses.

Those attending the convention from Harrisburg were Mrs. Aaron Dudley, president of Saline County Association for Mentally Retarded Children, and Mrs. Wallace Baldwin, mathematics teacher, Carmi, formerly of Harrisburg.

Workshop for Area Ministers At SIU May 29

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The preacher's role in community development, public education, political action and labor relations will be considered at a Ministers' Workshop May 29 at Southern Illinois university.

The meeting, to be held in the new library auditorium, is co-sponsored by SIU's Area Services and Extension divisions.

Richard Poston, director of Southern's Community Development program, will open the meeting by speaking on "Problems of Constructive Citizenship in Southern Illinois." He also will lead a discussion of panelists John Barnes, Carl Harm and Frank Sehnert, SIU community consultants.

Rev. W. John Harris, St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Carbondale, will preside at a 11:30 a. m. luncheon at the University Cafeteria. Speaker will be Dr. Charles

D. Tenney, Southern's vice-president for instruction.

Rev. Charles K. Hartman, Central, Southern Area representative for the Illinois Baptist convention, will be in charge of the afternoon session, which will feature small group discussions on various fields of community action for the minister.

The workshop will be concluded with a talk by Rt. Rev. Charles A. Clough, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese, Springfield.

Other area ministers who will assist in conducting the workshop are: Rev. John Burhorn, Presbyterian church, Anna; Rev. Harry Adams, Christian church, Carbondale; Rev. Hilton Longberry, Methodist church, Fairfield; Rev. O. L. Angel, Christian church, Metropolis; and Rev. William Boatman, Lutheran church, Murphysboro.

Other SIU consultants will be: Raymond H. Dey, Extension Division director; William Winter, associate professor of government; William Tudor, Area Services director; and William Westberg, psychology professor.

Seven Election Workers are Indicted in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted seven persons, both Democratic and Republican election workers, on charges of vote fraud in the November, 1954, congressional elections here.

They were charged with conspiracy to bring about fraudulent voting during the 5th Illinois District congressional elections in the home ward of Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley. The government charged the alleged offenses took place in balloting in the 23rd precinct of the 11th Ward.

Named in the indictments were: Charles V. Kelly, 32, a Democratic election clerk; Mrs. Anna Macis, 38, Republican election judge; Mrs. Anna Runovich, 39, Republican election judge; Mrs. Mary G. Johnston, 50, a Democratic judge; Mrs. Anna Miller, 54, a Republican clerk; Joseph C. Kenefick Jr., 43, a Democratic precinct captain and a city jobholder; John E. O'Hara, 43, a county officeholder.

Bond was set at $1,000 each.

Thursday, Mike had hoped Lisa would be gone. It would have been easier. He had to keep his appointment with Julius Chesney.

He put on his jacket and tucked the pistol into his belt.

"What are you doing, Vassili?"

"I'm going out."

"Have you lost your mind?"

He knew now what he would have to do. Lingering farewells were impossible. He walked toward the door. She blocked his passage.

"Vassili! What is the matter with you?"

"I said I'm going out."

"Are you insane? The Gestapo will have you within an hour."

"I can't take it any more, Lisa."

"Darling," she cried, "our people are working day and night! Another few days..."

He whirled and bolted through the door.

Mike stood across the street from the Piccadilly Cafe. There seemed little activity about. He wondered if he was making a mistake. But it seemed that Lisa was making him do foolish things. He hedged and began to turn back.

"Ah, Jay Linden, right on time, I see you got rid of your two traveling companions."

Mike wheeled around and looked into the mastiff face of Julius Chesney. A second man, apparently a seaman, stood alongside him.

"Well, let us not stand here on the sidewalk, dear fellow. I believe a noonday nip is in order," Chesney wheezed. "Come along. I didn't bring the German army with me. My friend here is Antonis, the captain of the Arkadia."

The three entered the cafe and found an isolated booth. They ordered krasis. Mike studied Antonis, who seemed oblivious as he puffed away on his pipe.

Chesney, talking in whispers, told Mike the Arkadia was a small, trim and fast motorboat that carried a crew of three. The ship's papers would read: Crete, but actual destination would be Cairo.

Antonis, Mike was assured, knew the route well, having made two other trips with British escapees. Mike's sponsor, the man who was going to pay for his passage, was due to join them shortly.

"When do we sail?" Mike asked.

"As soon as we get another escapee to man the boat."

"Since I saw you last I raised some money. If Antonis and I can handle the boat between us, I'll buy the passage."

The leathery old sailor nodded. He reckoned he and Mike could handle the ship.

"Four million drachmas," Chesney shot out quickly.

"Aren't you stretching it?"

"You are the one who seems eager to leave."

"I'll give you three million if we sail tonight."

Chesney scratched his jowls. "Let me see your money."

Mike placed his bundle of cash on the table. For the first time, Julius Chesney showed emotion. His fat jowls quivered. His fleshy hand darted over the table. Mike grabbed his wrist.

"You take half now—half when we get underway."

Chesney looked at the money, sighed and withdrew his hand and watched Mike carefully as he counted off a million and a half drachmas. Chesney recounted the money, his eyes watering.

A small, gray-haired man entered the cafe and looked around. "Ah, here comes another three million drachmas," Chesney said. "Over here, Mr. Cholevas!" he called.

The well-dressed elderly gentleman slipped quietly into the booth and nodded to everyone.

"Jay, meet your sponsor. The benevolent friend of the British, Mr. Apostolos Cholevas."

Cholevas nodded quietly.

Mike was curious about the man. He wondered why he was doing this.

"What good is my money if the Germans take over my country?"

Mr. Cholevas stayed long enough to have a half glass of wine and to give the money to Chesney. He wished Mike a good trip and asked if perhaps he'd write after the war. The old gentleman departed with a last request—to let the British know what was happening in Greece.

Julius Chesney drew a sheaf of papers from his crumpled suit. He spread them out on the table.

"Do you have identification papers, Linden?"

Mike produced the card and papers that bore the name, Vassili Papadopoulos. "Good—good—this saves me an expense," Chesney wrote the name on the ship's papers.

"Now, I believe everything is in order. The gas will be aboard before dark, gentlemen. Antonis, meet me later and I'll have the clearance papers and the patrol schedules."

"What about inspection of the boat?" Mike asked.

"My dear fellow. Do you cast aspersions on my ability? Ah me, by the time I finish oiling everyone's palm there is so little left. So many fingers in the pot, and prices are just outrageous these days."

Chesney shoved his way out of the booth and patted the pocket filled with drachmas affectionately. He extended his hand.

"Do be careful, Michael Morrison," Chesney said. "It would be extremely regrettable if the Stergiou list were to fall into German hands."

Mike stood there, dumbstruck, as Julius Chesney waddled from the cafe.

Government 'Wheels' Have Various Formulas for Relaxing After Work Hours

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — What do the wheels in the government do after they put on the brakes at sundown?

The big fellows have various formulas for relaxing after hours.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, who would like the Democratic nomination for the high office is a putterer-around-the-house. When he has time he dabbles in electricity and carpentry and kind of invents things to delight his son and three daughters.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon often cools off by gathering his wife and kids about him and playing the piano. He admits he is no Frankie Carle, but the youngsters like the way he gallops across the keys with "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

Mrs. Sherman Adams, wife of the President's top assistant, paints. She confesses to copying some of the old masters who specialized in landscapes.

Didn't Take Any Chances

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, loves to shoulder a musket and prowl the woods in search of a six-point deer. Very often he bags one.

Rep. Joe Martin, who was speaker when the Republicans held the reins, is a collector of elephants-miniatures, for sure — and gavel. Mostly gavel. He has uncounted hundreds of them. The most prized one is a 60-pound gavel carved out of a 2,000-year-old California redwood tree. Presiding over the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1952, Joe busted three gavels. But he wasn't taking any chances with his own collection. The hammers were all borrowed.

Reads a Great Deal

Sen. Stu Symington, the Missouri Democrat who is rated as a possible presidential nominee, plays golf to divorce himself from the cares of state, like the present tenant of the White House.

Sen. William E. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, takes his hobby home with him at night. That is work. He reads everything he can get his hands on. Bills he is interested in,

By KENNETH GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Are you in this year's new crop of green thumb enthusiasts?

If so, beware the pitfalls that await aspiring back-to-nature suburbanites or window box city slickers. It's no fun when nothing, the wrong thing or a small jungle comes up.

To assist amateurs through their spring and summer struggles, here's some fundamental advice from the Agriculture Department.

First off, don't get taken in by a slyster who sells you a bush he promises will bloom when it's in the ground. It may turn out to be sticks stuck in a burlap bag full of sand.

"The best policy for amateurs is to deal with well established firms or talk with gardening neighbors," says Dr. Victor Boswell, one of the Agriculture Department's top authorities on gardening.

"The American Nurserymen's Association is trying to clean out those people who take unfair advantage of novice gardeners, but there's always some guy who's trying to figure out a new angle."

Dr. Boswell believes people don't pull as many boob-boos as in years before, but plenty of new gardeners still make mistakes.

For instance, there's the hustler who heads for the hardware shop and buys every fancy gadget he can carry home.

"Actually the good gardener needs few and simple tools," says Boswell.

Then you have the grow-it-all-over-the-place guy who never has the heart to cut away excess shrubbery. Pretty soon his house is submerged in greenery.

"You've just got to screw up your courage and take out certain things," advises Boswell.

Next come the softies who pet their gardens to death.

"They're like some of these fellas who continually work on a car, and it's always out of whack," says Boswell. "Well, you can tramp around your garden so much that you'll wind up doing it harm."

"For example, some people water their gardens all the time. This can be harmful. A good soaking at longer intervals is better than lots of light sprinkling."

Finally, there's the fertilizer fiend. Expecting miracles, he lays on quantities of the stuff. The result is ruined vegetables or flowers.

"Don't guess at the amount of fertilizer you use. Be sure to distribute it according to directions," explains Boswell.

Here are other Boswell pointers:

Don't hoe too deeply. You're likely to disturb roots.

Don't run your rows up and down a slope. Keep them horizontal, otherwise they will help wash away the soil.

Don't sow seed too thickly. If you do, thin out your vegetables or flowers when they come up.

"Join a garden club," is Boswell's parting piece of advice.
